Important notes

- You may split:
  - Up to 85% of concessional contributions (this includes superannuation guarantee and other employer contributions, salary sacrifice and personal contributions for which a tax deduction has been claimed) up to the concessional contributions cap.
- To be able to split contributions with your spouse, your spouse must meet one of the following criteria:
  - Your spouse has not yet reached age 60 or
  - Your spouse has reached age 60 but is aged less than 65 years and has not retired from the workforce or has never been gainfully employed for 10 or more hours per week.
- The definition of 'spouse' includes married and de-facto couples. A person is in a de-facto relationship when they are not legally married to their partner but living with them in a bona fide domestic basis in a relationship as a couple.
- If you are age 60 or more, you have reached your preservation age. If you are under age 60, you have not.
- Contributions made in a financial year may only be split after the end of that financial year (or during the financial year if you are withdrawing your entire benefit).
- You may only make one application to split contributions in the Perpetual Select Super Plan per year.
- You have up until the following 30 June to request your contributions to be split. For example you will have until 30 June 2025 to split contributions made between 1 July 2023 and 30 June 2024.
- On receipt of a valid application the Trustee will transfer the superannuation contribution amount as soon as practicable within 90 days.
- Your spouse will not be charged contributions fees when you transfer superannuation contribution splitting amounts into their superannuation account (that they hold with us). Minimum balance and minimum investment requirements are also waived for your spouse when they receive a split superannuation contribution amount into their superannuation product or service with us.
- We have the right to reject the application if we have not received all the required information or the application does not comply with requirements.
